

Healthy Babies start with Healthy Pregnancies

On January 27, 2022, from 6 to 7:30pm, Judith King from the Partnership for Maternal and Child Health of Northern NJ is going to provide a zoom training regarding the impact of drug and alcohol use during pregnancy. We will learn:

- Why women use substances during pregnancy;
- The impact of alcohol, marijuana, tobacco, cocaine and opioids upon the developing fetus;
- And how to identify the signs of an infant born suffering from neonatal abstinence syndrome.

Judith King LCSW has 36 years of experience working in the field of addictions. She has worked as a Licensed Clinical Alcohol and Drug Counselor and provided outpatient counseling for 17 years, in addition to her 19 years of experience working in maternal child health. Judy is the manager of the Perinatal Addictions Prevention Project and a Certified Perinatal Addictions Specialist and FASD Educator. She provides prevention education to improve birth outcomes and prevent disabilities caused by prenatal exposure to alcohol, tobacco and drugs.

We look forward to seeing you at this informative training.
